

Sabbath Rest

What's that NOISE in the Forest?

Since January 19 quite some noise can be heard in the forest just up the hill from the Lodge! The long awaited continuation of the Selah Cabin construction is in full swing. Not only are we swinging hammers, but much more noise comes from the various power tools our friends, the framers, are using. Roy and Bert are skilled builders with decades of experience in the trade. Evidence of their work is the Lodge itself, but also cabins and houses all over this region that they built for the past 40+ years. Their good relationship with local suppliers also guarantees us quality materials. Made aware of the purpose of this cabin, they were willing to reduce their hourly rate, allowing us to move ahead much faster, and with confidence that the additional space for pastors and missionaries will come on line very soon! THANK YOU Roy and Bert.

Coordinator over the whole project is Rob, one of our Board Members, who brings plenty of his own experience to the job, as well as much muscle power when all hands need to be on deck!

Follow the progress on our Face Book page, and of course also on our web site.

We mentioned that the added space is long overdue. During the past weeks, we received multiple reservation requests for dates, that were already shown as "reserved" in our calendar on the web-site. Why? The need for a time of rest and renewal is ever present for those in ministry, and the hope that we have additional space available is there, too.

We are learning not to get frustrated when we have to turn down such requests, knowing that it is all in God's timing. Holding off with the project until enough funds had been accumulated, follows the principles we had established in our by-laws in 2002, namely that the ministry will not incur any debt.

Our partners have stepped up to the challenge in 2011, increasing donations by close to 10%, when other ministries have suffered during the same period. We are grateful and give the Lord praise for what He is doing through the willing hearts of those who support Shepherd's Refuge.

As of this writing, we are waiting for the windows and doors to be delivered so that the entire Selah Cabin is dried in, allowing us to focus on the interior finish out. The Smoke Rise Mission Team is already scheduled to come and help with that portion!
